VISION

Save the Children's vision is a world in which every child attains the right to survival, protection, development and participation.

MISSION

Save the Children's mission is to inspire breakthroughs in the way the world treats children, and to achieve immediate and lasting change in their lives.

VALUES

Accountability, Ambition, Collaboration, Creativity, Integrity

Values we believe in

Accountability

We take personal responsibility for using our resources efficiently, achieving measurable results, and being accountable to supporters, partners and, most of all, children.

Ambition

We are demanding of ourselves and our colleagues, set high goals and are committed to improving the quality of everything we do for children.

Collaboration

We respect and value each other, thrive on our diversity, and work with partners to leverage our global strength in making a difference for children.

Creativity

We are open to new ideas, embrace change, and take disciplined risks to develop sustainable solutions for and with children.

Integrity

We aspire to live to the highest standards of personal honesty and behaviour; we never compromise our reputation and always act in the best interests of children.

30 years for children

“For those who still believe that sparing the rod spoils the child!” – image of the campaign (2002-2004) on legally banning corporal punishment of children in all social contexts they might find themselves in.

2004

Save the Children obtains the prohibition of corporal punishment of children in Law 272/2004 on the protection and promotion of the rights of the child. Romania becomes the 14th state to outlaw any form of violence against children.

2013

Save the Children contributes to introducing Section IV, Protection of children whose parents work abroad, adequately addressing the social protection of children left home alone, in Chapter VI of Law 272/2004.

2018

After carrying out campaigns, organising official meetings with two children’s ombudsmen and drawing up three legislative proposals rejected by the Parliament, Save the Children obtained, through the fourth draft law, the creation of a specific field within the Ombudsman Institution, “safeguarding, protecting and promoting the rights of the child”, led by a specialised deputy, called Children’s Ombudsman.

1990-2020

In April 2020, Save the Children celebrates 30 years of activity in the promotion and protection of the rights of the child.

Save the Children Romania was established on April 20th, 1990, with the immediate objectives of providing emergency aid to children from the orphanages which were undergoing a dramatic situation. The constant support from Save the Children Sweden proved to be of paramount importance in the development of our organisation.

Dear friends,

What makes our donors and the other partners to support, year by year, Save the Children’s programmes and actions is one of the questions often received in the past years. And the answer relates to two key aspects that characterise our team. The first is an actual red thread of our interventions started 30 years ago and is specifically expressed by prioritising the rights of vulnerable children, determining a quick reaction from us, adapted to their needs and interests, whether it is about survival, protection against abuses or education. The second aspect relates to a prosocial attitude defined by accountability towards what we publicly commit to and constant transparency of our activities and financial efforts.

There are approximately 3.68 million children living in Romania, of whom 1.3 million are at risk of poverty and social exclusion, while the lives of 700,000 children are affected by severe material deprivation (the highest rate in the EU), an unwanted context that favours increased child mortality, school drop-out and lack of social protection against negligence, physical or sexual abuses. This troubling situation drove us to extend our projects to a higher number of children under conditions of obvious vulnerability.

The programme providing modern medical equipment to maternities continued and, thus, 52 medical units received 115 pieces of equipment worth EUR 1,000,000, while the component of integrated socio-medical services in isolated rural communities included 7,500 beneficiaries, of whom 2,500 new-borns, 500 pregnant women and 2,000 mothers, who were supported and monitored by our multidisciplinary teams. 4,980 children and 4,000 parents formed the target group of our socio-educational programmes (summer kindergartens, “School after School” and “Second Chance” programmes and the protection programme for children whose parents left to work abroad). Activities to prevent and fight bullying were carried out in 11 school units from Bucharest, for 1,200 children, 400 parents and 250 teachers, based on a procedure proposed to the Ministry of Education and Research at the launch of the campaign “Choose to fight bullying!”, which is to be included in the methodological norms that are to be adopted next year. Psychological assessment and counselling services provided therapeutic intervention, individual counselling, or parental education to a number of 2,579 children and 1,792 parents. These results were possible not only through the efforts of the specialists involved, the 2,700 volunteers helping the children through more than 80,000 hours of direct and relevant interaction, information, counselling, school education or social protection.

Coming back to the generosity of companies and individuals, the Christmas Tree Festival, our major event to raise funds in support of our educational programmes, raised donations worth EUR 700,000. 5,000 children from disadvantaged communities will benefit from quality education.

We thank all of our supporters and volunteers for their trust and support and assure them that we will further use our best efforts and skill for the children’s wellbeing.

IOANA

Ioana wishes to become a magician. Asked why, she said that magic would bring back home her parents who had gone to work abroad. Missing her parents already from a much too young age and overwhelmed by the incapacity to hold them near her more than a few days during holidays, the girl grew up with the desire of feeling encouraged and supported. Since she came at Save the Children, Ioana has met friends who have showed her that she is very capable and together they discovered her inner resources. This is where she found both her self-confidence and trust in others.

PROTECTION OF CHILDREN AGAINST VIOLENCE

About 1 of 6 children in Romania meets the criteria to be diagnosed for a mental health problem. Some of the factors that contribute to this dramatic statistics include: abuse, violence, insufficient specialised psychological assessment and intervention services, lack of coherent national strategies to identify and refer children at risk, lack of a national strategy with regard to the ongoing training of specialists that responds to the real needs of the children.

INTERVENTION

In 2019, Save the Children provided full psychological evaluation and counselling services for children and families within the counselling centres for parents in Iași, Timișoara, Târgu Mureș and Suceava and the Emotional and Behavioural Education Centre for Children (CEECC), Bucharest. 2,579 children were evaluated and benefited from group therapeutic intervention or individual counselling/psychotherapy and 1,792 parents were integrated in parental education programmes, in view of developing parental skills. 9,602 individual counselling sessions were provided.

Moreover, Save the Children launched the online platform scolifarabullying.ro, where concrete bullying situations can be notified and a specialist provides counselling.

Using the experience from the interventions carried out in more than 50 schools from Târgoviște and Bucharest, Save the Children proposed the Ministry of Education and Research a mechanism for school intervention that was included in the draft Methodological Standards to be adopted in 2020. The mechanism implies creating within schools groups of action made up of teachers, school counsellors, parents and children.

Being recognised as a reference organisation in the training of specialists, Save the Children delivered ongoing trainings for the professionals who interact with children directly. 405 teachers and professionals within the general directorates for the protection of the rights of the child benefited from workshops in view of improving the identification and intervention skills in relation to certain risk situations involving children: abuse, depression, anxiety, ADHD. 3,039 children took part in information sessions on the importance of a harmonious development, 984 parents participated in activities with regard to their part in the process. VOLUNTEERS

Save the Children promotes participation and volunteering among children and youngsters by providing opportunities for active involvement in the children's life and in safeguarding their rights. The National Centre of Volunteers is a support-department for the organisation's programs, where the involvement of volunteers is essential.

RECREATIONAL-EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES WITH VULNERABLE CHILDREN

Save the Children volunteers stand by the children in educational centres every day. With the help of the patient, empathic and caring volunteers, the children learn to write, read, count and develop major life skills. Everything happens in a fun way, with many games between series of homework, with many laughs and good vibes. The support of the volunteers is very important in this program, being teachers and good friends, as well as role models for the children.

INTERACTIVE INFORMATION SESSIONS IN SCHOOLS

Children and pupils throughout the country learn a variety of valuable information from the volunteers who dedicate their time to information sessions in schools. The volunteers talk with them, using nonformal education methods, about children's rights and protection, road safety, safe use of the Internet, combating violence and education for health. Peer-to-peer education, which these activities are based on, help the children learn more and better, in a fun, relaxed and trusty atmosphere.

EVENTS AND CAMPAIGNS

The volunteers support and participate in all of Save the Children events, from fund-raising activities, to marathons, from conferences and workshops to camps and galas. They help us organising major actions, equipping maternities by raising the necessary funds, delivering workshops for beneficiaries and implementing all the campaigns carried out by Save the Children.

“I admire all the volunteers for their desire to get involved and the help they give to the children. I like the connection many of the volunteers create with the children from the centres and classrooms.”

BANNING BULLYING IN SCHOOLS

Through its research and campaigns over the years, Save the Children contributed significantly to banning any form of bullying in schools under a legislative proposal which was adopted in the Parliament in December 2018 and promulgated by the President of Romania in 2019.

CIVIL SOCIETY PROTECTION

The initial form of Law 129/2019 to prevent and combat money laundering and terrorism financing included an unacceptably wide definition of the real beneficiary, reporting obligations on the part of NGOs which are impossible to observe and their unjustified inclusion in the list of reporting entities. Through lobby actions in the specialised commissions of the Romanian Parliament and petitions addressed to the European Parliament for the definition of legal terms from the European directive, Save the Children achieved the elimination of the abusive provisions from the final form of the legislative act.

UN GENERAL COMMENT

Save the Children Romania organised consultations with the children on their rights in the online environment and coordinated the drafting of the document of recommendations of Save the Children Association to the General Comment on children and the digital environment which is to be prepared by the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child.

EUROPEAN ELECTIONS AND THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD

Save the Children raised the awareness of the candidates to the European elections on the main issues faced by the children in Romania, inviting them to define their position towards phenomena such as violence against children, socio-economic protection, rights of the children in a situation of migration/asylum. Thus, 18 candidates – including Rareș Bogdan, Cristian Ghinea, Dragoș Pîslaru, Eugen Tomac, Geanina Pușcașu, Mircea Hava, Iurie Leancă, Vlad Botoș and Renate Weber – answered a specific questionnaire, committing to protect and vote in the European Parliament for children's rights.

The programme will become, with the support of the school inspectorates and of the Ministry of Education, the first national screening for eye health identification and assessment for over 600,000 children.

In 2019, eye examinations were carried out for 11,200 children from Bucharest and Neamt County; after referring the children identified with visual impairments to ophthalmologists, wearing glasses was recommended for 2,201 children. Of them, 604 children with a difficult financial situation received the glasses free of charge.

RESEARCH

REPORT ON THE OBSERVANCE OF CHILDREN'S RIGHTS IN ROMANIA

Together with the Ombudsman, Save the Children launched the Report on the observance of the rights of the child in Romania. Even though the child's best interest is legally well defined, children's situation in Romania remains critical, with more than a third of children living below the poverty line, with a chronic splitting between urban and rural with regard to basic rights – health, education, life – and a school dropout that puts its mark on society development. Thus, Romania has the highest rate of child mortality in the European Union, with a separate chapter of infant mortality, while severe material deprivation among children under the age of 6 (21.5%) is the highest in the EU (the average is 5.9%). <https://bit.ly/35a2SSf>

UNIVERSAL PERIODIC REVIEW

At the request of the Austrian Embassy, a report was prepared and presented on the status of the implementation of the recommendations made to the Romanian authorities as part of the Universal Periodic Review Mechanism of the human rights (UPR).

SAVE THE CHILDREN GLOBAL REPORT

According to the 2019 Save the Children Global Report, Romania ranks 51st out of 176 countries in terms of life safety of children, after countries such as Tunisia, Oman or Kazakhstan, obtaining similar scores for indicators concerning children's rights – lack of participation to education, early marriages, teen births – as Mauritius, Cuba or Sri Lanka. A concerning indicator is the number of teen mothers between 15 and 19 years of age, which registered 33.7 births in 1,000 adolescents, higher than states such as Rwanda (26.8), Trinidad and Tabago (31), Uzbekistan (16.7), Albania (20.7), Bahamas (28), Botswana (31.7), Burundi (27.4), Mauritius (26.9), Djibouti (19.4), India (24.5) or Tunisia (7.6).

USE OF THE INTERNET BY CHILDREN (2019)

The study regarding the use of the Internet by children (2019) aimed at identifying how children aged between 12 and 17 use the Internet and how online behaviours influence their emotional wellbeing. More than a quarter (27.3%) of Romanian children spend more than six hours online, on a school day, and their percentage increases to 48.3% on weekends or holidays. 54% of children said they were bothered or offended by other persons on the Internet.

CONSULTATION OF PUPILS ABOUT THE MEASURES PROPOSED BY THE AUTHORITIES IN EDUCATION

In partnership with the Federation of Romanian Pupils and the National Pupils' Council, Save the Children launched an online consultation of pupils, to explore their opinions on a series of changes in the field of education considered by the decision-makers.

The questionnaire was launched in June and filled in by 1,391 secondary school, high-school and vocational school pupils. In addition to the opinions expressed about the measures proposed by the authorities, the respondents sent their own solutions to the problems they face concerning the observance of their right to quality education.

From the first 18 editions, Save the Children obtained, following the Christmas Tree Festival, EUR 5,317,800 and was thus able to actively support 39,485 children: 8,196 children participated in the summer kindergartens programme, 27,173 children were included in the School after School programme, and 4,116 children were supported through the Second Chance programme. “The Christmas Tree Festival is much more than a fundraising event, and what we managed to build together – volunteers, designers, supporters – is a micro-system where no child should be left outside of school for being too poor or for being forgotten by the authorities. For 19 years, this micro-system, which has solidarity as resource, truly works miracles. The Christmas miracle is in our actions.” – Gabriela Alexandrescu, Executive President Save the Children Romania.

The biggest bid was for the tree created by Omid Ghannadi, supported by “La Măruță” TV Show, EUR 180,000, a new record registered in the Christmas Tree Festival. This was purchased by Kaufland Romania, Catena, Lidl, Beautik Haute Parfumerie and BCR.

“It is my sixth year when I participate in the Christmas Tree Festival and, until now, I have made trees as design items. This year, I wanted to make a story, because education, beyond calculations and numbers, is made from stories. And tonight, I was able to convince the people that the story matters and, very importantly, I sold a tree that will be healthy and have its roots in the ground to carry the story forward even 100 years from now.” – Omid Ghannadi.

Since the start of the program, in October 2014, until the end of 2019, Save the Children attracted more than 36,000 active donors whom the fundraisers met in Bucharest, Cluj-Napoca, Timișoara and Iași. Thanks to the donors, significant sums of money contributed to equipping the maternities with modern medical equipment.

3.5% OF THE INCOME TAX

Every year, Save the Children is rolling out the fundraising campaign addressing individuals, to redirect 3.5% of the income tax. Anyone who achieved incomes from salaries, pensions, independent activities, intellectual property rights or lease in the previous year can contribute through this campaign, by filling in form 230 found at <https://www.salvaticopiii.ro/redirectioneaza>.

ONLINE

Periodic support, through online donations, for Save the Children projects is very important, these donations contributing to the sustainability of the organization's projects. Whether it is education, health or protection, Save the Children is constantly carrying out impactful activities for the community, giving increased interest to children from disadvantaged environments.

SMS

SMS 8844 WITH THE TEXT SALVEZ (SAVE)

A simple method to monthly support the Save the Children program to equip the maternities with medical equipment is by means of the SMS donation mechanism. It is the easiest way to support a charitable cause, by sending a SMS worth 2 Euro/month at 8844 with the text SALVEZ (SAVE).

“My involvement as a fundraiser has coloured my life since the first day I started working and has contributed to who I am today. Thanks to the team I realized I could do much more than I thought. People’s gratitude for doing something with a major impact on children and society as a whole is wonderful.”
